Short Description	The Bachelor of Arts in Architectural Studies [BA(AS)] is a four-year, full-time programme that introduces students to architecture as a cultural discipline. Programme Full Name	Bachelor of Science in Surveying 理學士(測量學)
Programme Short Name	BSc(Surv)
Short Description	The BSc in Surveying is the first fully integrated undergraduate surveying programme worldwide and as such has led the way in surveying education. It covers the full spectrum of real estate and construction businesses, including, for example, real estate development, construction project management, real estate finance and investment, facility management, urban planning, conservation, and urban renewal. A significant difference between this programme and more conventional ones is the greater emphasis on a comprehensive academic underpinning and perspective required by all real estate and construction professionals. The BSc(Surveying) programme promotes interdisciplinary learning. Our students undertake studies in the economic, law, management, technology and innovation, conservation, and research aspects of the entire land development cycle. The programme has two major components: lecture courses and surveying studios. The lecture courses define the academic core of the programme whilst the studios provide an environment within which the interdisciplinary nature of the programme can be more fully explored and boundaries tested through the extensive use of real-life case studies and student-centred project work. The BSc(Surveying) programme allows students in their third year of study to take a credit bearing course, Professional Practice, which requires students to gain professional experience during their internship in companies within the real estate and construction sector. In addition, under normal circumstances, around 70% of our students would participate in a semester-long exchange programme, visiting universities all around the world and exchanging knowledge and practices. Since credits taken in the exchange programme can be transferred, students who participate in overseas exchange can graduate as scheduled. All these provide experiential learning platforms for students to enhance their personal, academic and professional development.

Programme Full Name	Bachelor of Arts in Landscape Studies 園境學文學士
Programme Short Name	BA(LS)
Short Description	The Bachelor of Arts in Landscape Studies [BA(LS)] is an internationally recognised undergraduate degree offered by the Division of Landscape Architecture. Our programme delivers a broadly comprehensive education in the landscape architecture discipline. We teach the knowledge, concepts and skills required to respond creatively, professionally and ethically to the urgent social and environmental challenges faced by our cities and regions today. Students graduating from our BA(LS) programme may continue their studies in the professionally-accredited Master of Landscape Architecture (MLA) programme at HKU, or apply for study in some of the world's top postgraduate programmes. Landscape architecture is an increasingly critical discipline that binds a core capacity in design and planning with fluency in ecology, civil engineering, and geography. This interdisciplinarity extends back to landscape architecture's origins, where the profession and its antecedents engaged with the challenges of human settlement and environmental risk; planning for health, recreation, and conservation in the industrialising city; and remediating the landscapes of pollution that followed. Landscape architecture today faces challenges of rapid urbanisation, resource depletion, climate change, rising sea-levels, and declining biodiversity. Whether you end up engaging with a corporate client, informing a government body, or participating with an environmental non-profit, our degree will give you the critical, creative, and intellectual tools to advocate for just and sustainable change moving forward.

Programme Full Name	Bachelor of Arts in Urban Studies 文學士(城市研究)
Programme Short Name	BA(US)

Short Description The Bachelor of Arts in Urban Studies [BA(US)] is an interdisciplinary, studio-based and professionally-oriented programme offered by the Department of Urban Planning and Design. It is designed to equip you with a wide range of knowledge about cities and city systems that provides an essential basis for a variety of urban professions.

Our programme therefore places a strong emphasis on understanding the dynamics of cities and systems of cities, as well as the way public policy, urban management and design interventions interact positively and negatively with the spontaneous social and economic processes that make up city life. We place importance on research, applied statistical analysis, observation and communication, and introduce you to theories and methods, design thinking and design skills during the four years of study. Through integrated problem-based learning, you will analyse urban problems from multiple perspectives and propose appropriate policy, regulatory, design and other interventions. Upon graduation, you will acquire skills in spatial analysis that allow you to investigate the urban economy, society and environment, and become an expert in understanding how land, property development, government policy and laws shape cities.

The BA(US) curriculum is aligned to prepare students to become professional surveyors in the planning and development stream of the surveying profession, and more generally, future global urban leaders. You will apply your knowledge to urban issues in Hong Kong and elsewhere. Overseas student exchange programmes and professional training through internships are also strongly encouraged in the programme.

Our BA(US) graduates may go on to become professional urban planners after pursuing our Master of Science in Urban Planning, Hong Kong's only professional postgraduate degree programme in planning accredited by the Hong Kong Institute of Planners (HKIP) and the Royal Town Planning Institute (RTPI). You can also continue your studies in other professional postgraduate programmes in urban analytics, urban design, housing management, transport policy and planning, landscape architecture, conservation, environment and real estate, at HKU or other local/overseas universities.

Short Description What does it mean to become an educated person in today's ever changing and unpredictable world? Rooted in the belief that each student's talents and aspirations are unique, the personalised BASc(IS) programme is designed for students who wish to explore and develop their own passions and intellectual interests at university.

The personalised BASc (IS) is designed for intellectually ambitious students who benefit from maximal flexibility, and who wish to take control of their own learning. We seek to cultivate within students a rare unity between unbounded imagination and creativity (from the humanistic disciplines), with rigour and systematic analysis (from the scientific disciplines). As such, our students develop a broad set of scholarly skills which allow them to become adaptive, compassionate, well-rounded leaders across a diverse range of fields.

Four aspects shape the BASc(IS) student experience:

1. Holistic Development: Academic, social and emotional development of the whole person (e.g. through mentorship, internships, informal learning and co-curricular activities).
2. Personalised Learning: Experiences that reflect students' unique interests, passions and formative ambitions (e.g. through the Personalised Concentration option)*.
3. Interdisciplinary Education: Formal coursework across disciplinary fields, with specific interdisciplinary courses. Students undertake high-quality training from the Social Sciences, Arts and Science disciplines. Crucially, they develop a distinctive toolkit to intersect and integrate disciplines through case studies, research opportunities and capstone experiences).
4. Multiple Literacies: Aspirational outcomes to become versed and literate in several areas as a community of well-rounded, local and global citizens (e.g. through field trips and out-of-classroom learning experiences).

 Subject to the University's final approval*

Programme Full Name Bachelor of Pharmacy
藥劑學學士

Programme Short Name BPharm

Short Description The Bachelor of Pharmacy (BPharm) programme aims to nurture competent graduates with a solid knowledge of pharmacy alongside their abilities to apply the core knowledge and skills effectively, humanely and ethically when it comes to the delivery of pharmaceutical care. By adopting the highest standard of professional practice, our graduates will contribute tremendously to the pharmacy sector and its professionalism as well as the general health and well-being of the patient community.

Clinical Pharmacy

With the support of Queen Mary Hospital and Gleneagles Hong Kong Hospital, not only do HKU undergraduates enjoy early clinical exposure but also benefit from the interprofessional collaboration of pharmacists and clinicians through on-site education in wards and outpatient clinics.

New Learning Approaches

Diversified “fit-for-purpose” teaching pedagogies have been adopted to manifest the specific features of the curriculum, enhanced by the introduction of The Pharmacy Experiential Education Programme (PEEP) and the Enrichment Module. Besides, as an area of strength in the Medical Faculty, the problem-based learning (PBL) approach in teaching is applied to encourage critical thinking, self-directed learning skills and interdisciplinary inquiry from students and fostering their lifelong learning skills.

Training in Industrial Pharmacy

A wide spectrum of topics related to the practicality of industrial pharmacy is taught by the industry’s experts with extensive work experience.

Patient Counselling and Communication Skills

A key characteristic of the programme is to enhance students’ proficiency in providing primary healthcare services, particularly patient education. Students have various opportunities to acquire patient counselling and communication skills step-by-step.

Training in Industrial Pharmacy

Students have the opportunity to experience the local industry for professional pharmacy service. A wide spectrum of topics on the practical aspects related to industrial pharmacy is taught by experts with extensive work experience in the industry.

Exposure to Chinese Medicine plus Complementary and Alternative Medicine

The programme equips future pharmacists in Hong Kong with the knowledge of Chinese Medicine as well as Complementary and Alternative Medicines (CAM), including herbal medicines, nutraceuticals, healthcare products and cosmetics commonly used by local patients in conjunction with Western medicines.

Opportunity for Interprofessional Learning

The programme offers students invaluable opportunities for interprofessional learning, including a patient care project (PCP) and interprofessional education and a collaborative practice (IPECP) with students from the Medicine, Nursing and Chinese Medicine programmes. These interprofessional learning activities will utilise the expertise of students from diverse backgrounds and foster teamwork, cooperation, and communication between different healthcare professionals in the future.

Short Description	The 6729 BSC(AC) programme is the only programme in Hong Kong accredited by the UK's Institute and Faculty of Actuaries. It provides formal academic training to students who wish to join the actuarial profession. It is specifically designed to prepare students to sit the early actuarial examinations of the professional bodies for actuaries, thus allowing them to readily join the actuarial profession with internationally-recognised qualifications upon graduation. Although actuarial science is a separate discipline with its own area of knowledge, modern actuarial training requires multidisciplinary knowledge in probability, statistics, economics, investment, finance, law, taxation and accounting. The HKU Actuarial Science curriculum reflects this requirement by incorporating various interdisciplinary courses into the basic yet comprehensive actuarial training. The 6729 BSC(AC) programme aims to equip students with a solid background in actuarial science, and enable them to develop the confidence and analytical skills needed to define and tackle problems in actuarial science and related fields. Students should also be able to evaluate and measure various kinds of risk using effective quantitative methods, and become proficient in formulating and communicating practicable business strategies with professionalism as well as accuracy.

Programme Full Name	Bachelor of Journalism 新聞學學士
Programme Short Name	BJ
Short Description	The Bachelor of Journalism programme is a communications-focused double-major curriculum for the digital age. Students use the journalism component of the programme to build critical thinking and communications skills across multiple media; by the end of the four-year programme they will be able to produce accurate and deeply researched written work on a variety of subjects, shoot and edit compelling video documentaries, and create data-driven online journalism. Graduates are highly valued by employers from a wide range of communications-intensive fields, such as public relations, law, education, government, and of course media. In their second year, each student will choose another academic major to combine with the journalism component, thus creating a bespoke degree that will allow them to explore fully their unique intellectual interests, whether in other social sciences like sociology, politics, and economics, or in computer science, music, fine arts, language, or literature – to mention just a few of the choices recent graduates have made. Throughout the programme, the emphasis is on experiential real-world learning. All students will complete at least one summer internship at a media publication or other communications-focused organization. Students also can spend a semester abroad at one of six top overseas journalism schools or one of HKU's partner institutions. A diverse faculty and student body ensures a lively learning environment that feeds students' curiosity about the world. Current faculty members of HKU's Journalism & Media Studies Centre (JMSC) hail from North America, Europe, Asia, and Australia, while more than two dozen nationalities are represented among current students and recent graduates. Class size is kept small, to foster classroom discussion as well as the family feeling that makes the JMSC a very special place at HKU.
Remarks	Besides HKDSE result, reports of school principals, records of extra-curricular activities and campus journalism experience may be considered.

Programme Full Name	Bachelor of Science in Quantitative Finance 理學士(計量金融)
Programme Short Name	BSc(QFin)
Short Description	The Bachelor of Science in Quantitative Finance [BSc(QFin)] is a premium finance programme. Built on a solid foundation in economics and finance, the BSc(QFin) programme equips students with the essential quant skills, such as mathematics, statistics, and programming, that are required in more advanced and sophisticated analyses, such as valuation models of structured products, risk management, simulation and data analysis, financial engineering, and quantitative trading. The programme goes beyond merely equipping students with quant skills. More importantly, it stresses on combining these skills with an understanding of the financial markets, the macro environment, and the practical situations where financial managers work. To this end, the curriculum offers a balanced mix of quant and business courses. In the first two years students take basic finance courses such as accounting, corporate finance, macroeconomics, derivatives, and portfolio management. At the same time, they are introduced to a strong foundation in probability, statistics, calculus, linear algebra, and computer programming. Students will apply the aforementioned quant skills in specialised QFin courses the third and fourth years of study, such as risk management, financial engineering, spreadsheet financial modelling, and mathematical finance. They can also choose from a wide selection of major elective courses such as time series analysis, big data and quant trading. We believe that a broad knowledge base is essential for undergraduate students to understand the world in depth, absorb new ideas quickly, and think outside the box and from multiple perspectives. Hence the programme affords much flexibility to students to pursue other academic interests via second major or minor(s), whether they are mathematics, economics, or biochemistry. To nurture students' soft skills and market acumen, the programme provides a wide range of value-enhancing activities, such as Round Tables with Practitioners, Alumni Drinks, Executive Mentorship Scheme, Bloomberg training workshops, simulation trading workshops, and an international field trip to other international financial centres such as New York, London and Zurich.
