Applicants with previous HKDSE subject result of A040 'Liberal Studies' will be used as the alternative of the core subject requirement of A045 'Citizenship and Social Development'.

The elective subjects should preferably be a science subject (i.e. Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Combined Science, Integrated Science) or Health Management and Social Care.

The following subject(s) will carry a greater weight in admission score calculation, please click here for details.

- Biology

- Chemistry

- Health Management and Social Care

- Physics

1. The two elective subjects must be any two subjects in Category A, Category B or Category C, and at least one of the two must be from Category A.
2. Unless otherwise stated in the Programme-specific subject requirements, HKDSE Category B subjects (Applied Learning) with attainment at “Attained” or above; or Category C subjects (Other Languages) at specified levels can be considered as elective subjects, and up to 2 Applied Learning subjects (excluding Applied Learning Chinese) will be recognized as electives.
3. Mathematics Extended Part (i.e. Module 1 (Calculus and Statistics) / Module 2 (Algebra and Calculus)) will be counted as an elective subject. If applicants have taken both Module 1 and Module 2, only the module with best result will be taken into consideration.
4. Non-Chinese Speaking (NCS) applicants, who have met the specified circumstances as announced by the Education Bureau (EDB), can use the following qualifications to replace HKDSE Chinese Language level 3 to meet the entrance requirement for Chinese Language:
  - ‘Attained’ or above in HKDSE Category B (Applied Learning Chinese); or
  - Grade E or above in GCE (A-Level / AS-Level / O-Level) Chinese ; or
  - Grade E / Grade 3 or above in GCSE / IGCSE ChineseFor programmes with specific entrance requirements on the Chinese Language proficiency, please click here for details.
5. In addition to the General Entrance Requirements, individual programme may require specific subject requirements. Also, some programmes may give higher weighting to certain subjects, core and/or elective, and some may also grant preference to certain elective subjects in admission selection. Please refer to the ‘Programme-specific subject requirements’ for details or click here.
6. The University accepts combined results of HKDSE examination. The best results will be considered for meeting the entrance requirements and for the calculation of admission scores.

Calculation of scores for applicants with more than 1 sitting in HKDSE Examination
HKMU will consider the best grade attained for a particular subject from any sittings of HKDSE examination taken by the applicant. There is no grade penalty for multiple sittings.

Short Description	Data Science and Artificial Intelligence (DSAI) are interdisciplinary as they draw on various disciplines, such as Mathematics, Statistics and Computer Science. Machine Learning is the core of data science and AI. It employs computer algorithms to interpret data and learn from the results for decision making and forecasting. DSAI can push forward business development, optimize business and operations, and create more attractive operating models. Data sources may come from tables, relational databases, texts, videos, audios, images, etc. Data scientists / AI specialists use data-science methods, deep learning, machine learning and AI to discover clients, products, services, operations and market insights.

Programme Short Name	BEng(BSE)
Short Description	The programme aims to nurture professional engineers skilled in designing and managing the built environment and building services systems. As the first Government-recognised Applied Degree programme in engineering, it combines theory and practice, covering energy-efficient design methods, data-driven energy management, and large-scale construction project management, with a strong emphasis on Building Information Modelling (BIM) technologies. Students benefit from substantial internships and close industry partnerships, ensuring they acquire practical skills and real-world experience. Fully accredited by the HKIE, this programme offers a recognised pathway to becoming a Registered Professional Engineer, equipping graduates with the expertise needed to excel in the competitive engineering field.
Remarks	This is an Applied Degree programme. For details, please refer to the website of the respective programme.
